Dear friends, members and readers all over the World,

It is about time for another "big" issue of SWN. I think that you can find something of interest (as usual!).

First of all, a very successful EDXC Conference was held in Dublin from August 28th to August 30th with no less than 48 participants including yours truly and our chairman from Denmark. Many interesting lectures were held during the session from various representatives from radio stations. A full report in this issue, written by Anker, can be found on page 26-28 containing lots of pictures. A special programme from the conference was made by Dr. Ufuk Gecim of Voice of Turkey. It is possible that it still can be heard on podcast on <http://www.trtdeutsch.com/trtinternational/de/news.aspx?dil=de>

After the conference we visited our long time member Patrick Cody and his wife Mary in the South western part of Ireland. A very interesting visit where we among other things saw Patrick's wonderful garden and his collection of old rare radio receivers.

As I have written several times before here in my editorial, I can but just recommend you to participate this annual event, where many old friends can be seen as well as to make new friendships and that is not that bad!

From November 23rd to December our annual contest "The Super Grand tour with Cancer and Capricorn" will take place. This time is the 21st contest arranged by our Czech member, Jaroslav Bohac during all the years. A big thank you very much to Jaroslav for arranging this contest every year. Jaroslav and myself hope that there will be many participants for this contest, as it is the very last time Jaroslav will arrange the contest due to lack of interest. Due to space limits in this SWN, the first four contest sheets are on page 22-25 and the rest of the total of 10 pages will follow in the next SWN.

We are still searching for a new clandestine editor, cf. SWN no. 6 FrontPage and SWN no. 5 page 3. It is an interesting, but time requiring job to follow all the frequent changes. Anker no more has time to do that job besides being editor of the DBS, the Tropical Bands Monitor, the DX-Window and being Chairman of the DSWCI. If anybody is willing to take over editing the Clandestine List, maybe entirely on the DSWCI website, please contact Anker Petersen. It must be possible to find a new editor among our many active members! Anker looks forward to hear from you.

From our Medium Wave editor, Ray Browell I have got a message telling me, that there will be no MW section this time due to relocation of his workplace. I look forward to have this section back again in the next issue.

Our long time member Jacques Augustin from France, we got a postcard some times ago telling us that he celebrates his 40th anniversary as a member of our club, which has always satisfied me, as he writes. Certainly well done, Jacques!

With this, I wish you all the very best 73's hoping to hear from you on or before the below mentioned deadline - Kaj

Next Deadline: SWN No. 8/09 October 29th
SWN No. 9/09 December 10th
Please note that we prefer, that you send your Contributions directly to the various editors
